Positive Characteristics

The Irving Police Department looks for applicants that display specific positive attributes and characteristics that will provide the highest quality of service to the citizens of Irving.

Some of the most important qualities that we look for in our applicants are:

- Integrity
- Honesty
- Discretion
- Common Sense
- Maturity
- Personal Responsibility
- Independence
- Physical Fitness
- Communication skills

Although we look for these positive qualities in our applicants, several of our applicants are disqualified due to poor choices they have made in their past. A few examples of this would be; previous drug usage within the past 12 months and the practice of deception throughout any Police department's hiring process, including ours. We understand that making mistakes throughout life is a learning process that everyone must go through to discover who they are. We take into consideration the totality of the information presented to us in your personal history statement. We ask that you, the applicant recognize that your decisions and the people that you choose as friends may influence and reflect upon the outcome of your application.

Testing Information

The Irving Police Department's next police officer test will be on Saturday June 12th at 8:00 am. Applicants will complete the written exam and fitness test on this day. Due to retirements within the department, we anticipate 8-10 openings for this test day. Hired applicants will start an academy on August 30th. Registration is online on the "Registration" page of the website.
